

HHS 4M (Individuals and Families in a Diverse Society)

Grade 12: (College/University)

This course applies current theories and research from the disciplines of anthropology, psychology, and sociology to the study of individual development, family behaviour, intimate and parent-child relationships, and the ways in which families interact within the diverse Canadian society. Students will learn the interpersonal skills required to contribute to the well-being of families, and the investigative skills required to conduct and evaluate research about individuals and families.

Prerequisites: Any university, university/college, or college preparation course in social sciences and humanities, English, or Canadian and world studies.
