Director of Education, David Tamblyn explained the rationale behind the decision to start the Modified Pupil Accommodation Process. Although enrolment at Red Rock Public School has steadily declined in the last several years the school Board had put off starting the pupil accommodation process sooner because they were hopeful that the population of the school would rebound. The hope was that another business would re-open the mill, and there would be employment opportunities for young families to move into the community. But because that has not transpired, and with the enrolment level now at 11 students, the school Board decided it needed to look at alternatives in the interest of doing what is best for the students. Mr. Tamblyn explained that in spite of the staff's best efforts, with so few students spread from K-6, it is challenge to provide a supportive learning environment. He went on to explain that there are learning benefits to having greater number of same aged peers, as students can interact with each other creating a social dynamic in the classroom that supports a positive learning environment. He spoke of the benefits of increased engagement when students have more similar aged peers, as they can help each other. Finally, he spoke of the social and emotional benefits of a larger group of peers.

Mr. Tamblyn also explained that RRPS met the conditions to start the modified pupil accommodation process and that if the school were to close it would close at the end of June 2017. He explained where to find the Red Rock pupil accommodation review information on the Board website.

3.0 Initial Staff Report Details – Initial Staff Report - Nicole Morden-Cormier, Superintendent of Education & Cathy Tsubouchi, Superintendent of Education and Human Resources

Key Points Presented:

RRPS History: Grade 7-12 Study

Current Situation: Kindergarten to Grade 4 Facility

Current Bussing Situation: Red Rock to Nipigon

Current Situation: Staffing

Current Situation: Specialized Programs/Services

Current Situation: Grade Configuration and Enrolment

Enrolment: 5-Year Historic

Enrolment: 10-Year Projections

Funding: Impact of New Funding Model

Superintendent of Education, Nicole Morden-Cormier set the context for the history and current situation at the Red Rock Public School. She spoke about the exploration done in 2011 on a grade 7-12 model for our regional schools. She communicated that, at that time, there was a clear lack of support from parents, students and stakeholders for this idea (citing the challenges that may be experienced around lack of leadership opportunities, high school students influencing younger students, and supervision). She also stated that in 2014, there was the opportunity for grade 8 students to attend GONPS but families chose not to go. At this time however, there are 5 students from the Red Rock area who have chosen to attend the George O'Neill Public School. Nicole pointed out that while enrolment numbers at Red Rock Public School started out as 14 in October, 2016, they are current at 11 FTE in January 2017.

Superintendent of Business, Cathy Tsubouchi spoke about the OTG (How many students a school can accommodate) and how RRPS was only utilizing 7% of the building at this time. She also explained how the funding model had changed which has had a negative impact. She stated that they do get other grants but the funding models are based on student enrollment.

4.0 School Information Profile-Wayne Chiupka, Manager of Plant Services

Key Points Presented:

- Shared Space

- Current Facility Condition: FCI Index

He stated that the Early Years Centre was the only revenue for the space. He also stated that there is a team that inspects the school and gives it a FCI (Facility Condition Index) RRPS's rating was a 0.48, which falls in the poor condition range. He noted that the building is functioning as a school properly.

5.0 Option for Continued Public Education – Nicole Morden Cormier, Superintendent of Education, & Kellie Wrigley, Principal, George O'Neill Public School

Key Points Presented:

- Transition to George O'Neill Public School

George O'Neill Public School: Programs and Services
Current and Projected School Organization at GOPS
Academic Context: High Expectations and Authentic Learning
Social Context: Learning Together
Emotional Context: Responding to Student Interests
Supporting Each Other as a Community of Learners

Superintendent of Education, Nicole Morden-Cormier stated that much research and exploration had occurred prior to the recommendation that the current students of Red Rock Public School be transported to the George O'Neill Public School. She indicated that this decision reflects the need for students to be in an increasingly social environment that includes similar aged peers with programs and services to optimize learning.

Principal Kellie Wrigley stated the population of GONPS was approximately 108 students and explained how the busing would work to bring students from Red Rock to GONPS. Generally speaking, bus times would have the students picked up around 8:10 am, and brought home by 3:40 pm; in some cases, a later pick up and an earlier drop off than students currently residing in Nipigon. She commented on parents concern that the class sizes may be too big but explained how they were nice sizes and great for collaboration. She explained the roles of the Special Education teacher and the LLI and Math intervention. She expressed how with more students there are more opportunities and explained that with such a large staff they could offer many extra-curricular where teachers can share their strengths with the students. She shared that currently GONPS has a drama club, boys drumming, Archery for grades 4-8, choir, art program and sports teams. She also said that all sports and clubs run during the lunch break so that everyone has a chance to participate.
